

Live in Your Moment

Live each moment like it's your last
Without worrying about should or could, that's in the past

The future, no need to stress or agonize
Because your destiny is already organized

Live in your own envisioned present
No need for others to approve or consent

No one else should interfere or infiltrate
Only you should delegate and self-advocate

Nor should anyone or anything monopolize
Because you are the only one to plan and prioritize

So, live in your eternal now
And you decide your when, why and how

Simply, never sell yourself short
Because life is not a passive sport

Take a moment to stop and observe
To appreciate all that you sincerely deserve

Take time to smell the fragrant roses
Spend quality time with those dearest and closest

(Copyright © 2021. All poems are copyrighted by Renee M. White. All rights reserved.)

Do things that make you jovial and gay
Like dancing to Soca or Meringue

Or enjoy reading and writing poetry
Or climbing rocks, Mt. Everest, or a tree

Don't leave your bucket list undone
Be sure to have a life of hilarious fun

Your happiness is a sign of your success
Not how many people you need to impress

Live in the moment
Live in your moment